Building Hope in Myanmar

The Schumacher Mission

Tom and Elizabeth Schumacher have devoted their lives to a call God placed on their hearts—to bring hope, stability, and the love of Jesus to vulnerable children in Myanmar. Responding in faith, they purchased land and began building what would become both a children’s home and a Bible school training center. From the beginning, their doors opened to children from extremely poor villages where access to essential support is scarce. Their mission has always been to provide a safe, nurturing environment where each child knows they are seen, valued, and deeply loved by God.

As the years have passed, the ministry has grown steadily through God’s faithfulness and the generosity of partners around the world. What began as a simple step of obedience has expanded into a thriving campus that now includes a girls’ dorm, a boys’ dorm, a chapel with living quarters, gardens, and a rice field that helps sustain daily needs. A new two-story building with a kitchen, funded in part by Victory Churches Canada, is currently under construction and will greatly enhance the home’s ability to feed and care for all the children.

The impact of this work is already visible in the lives of the young people who have grown up within the home. Several have continued their journey by studying in the Bible training center, deepening their faith and developing practical skills that will shape their futures. Tom shared that the legacy they hope to leave is one marked by faith, love, education, and the life skills needed to build strong, hope-filled lives.

Tom and Elizabeth extend their heartfelt gratitude to everyone who has prayed, given, and stood with them over the years.
